There will be a game of Polo on the Race-course, to-day commencing at 5 p.m.

The hearing of the Kun-pai-Ancon collision case was proceeded with yesterday morning and the case was further adjourned till to-day.

The Agents (Messrs. Adamson, Bell & Co.) informed us that the steamer Mogul, from Liverpool, left Singapore for Hongkong yesterday morning.

The British steamer Derbyshire, which arrived yesterday from Sagoen, reported having passed the steamer Empress of the Parrot on the Slatult.

Another serious fatigue took place in Queen's Road last evening about eleven o'clock.

"Punch and Judy" show was again the scene of its commencement, causing the Chinese to congregate in such numbers as to make the road quite impossible.

We understand some ladies were wishing to pass through the crowd and a number of Europeans and Gau Lascars were as wishing them to do so when the Chinese, who were not doubt hustled very much about, turned round, and took their sticks, and any little thing like to let loose, and the result was a disturbance ended by a Gun-Lance being marched to the station and charged with assaulting two or three lunkangs.

Eye-witnesses said the Chinese constables used the Lance most brutal whilst others thought just the reverse, but at any rate the Magistrate will deal with the case this morning.

About a score of persons applied at the Central Police Station last night in quest of children that had been lost during the part of the day. In some cases they were found, and in others not so fortunate particulars were given with respect to the little ones.

THE VISIT OF THEIR ROYAL HIGHNESSES THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT.

In addition to the streets and roadway, the Colony will also give a new sewer-drain, and paving of the whole of the river Praya, and for widening what is the present Praya to 25 feet. It will be as far as width of 150 feet, which will also be the width of the New Praya, built with a frontage in an average depth of 30 feet of water in the lowest tides, instead of the mud banks with their unwholesome exhalations which exist at present.

In March last, however, Mr. Price, owing to failing health, resigned, and Mr. Brown was appointed Surveyor-General of Hongkong.

He has proposed considerable modifications in the proportion appertaining to the reclamations in front of those lots of ground which already belong to the Government; and this reclamation belonging to the Government, when carried out, will add a sum of £100,000 to the value of the land, according to the estimate of the late Sir Edward Grey, who also estimated the value of the reclamation belonging to the Marine lot owners at about £3,000,000.

He has proposed considerable modifications in the proportion appertaining to the reclamations in front of those lots the office of the Praya Reclamation works, which were very tastefully and effectively outlined with paper lanterns and small oil lamps. The temporary pavilion erected for the ceremony of laying the first stone of the Praya Reclamation works was also decked with lanterns, as was also the Victoria Recreation Club, and the flagstaff at the Naval Yard, was treated the same way. To the westward, with the exception of Messrs. Douglas Laprade and Co., there was nothing very striking. The large gas star at the P. & O. Company's office unfortunately suffered from the high wind, seldom more than a small portion of it being alight at one time, and the gas illuminations of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co.'s failed off their effect for the same cause. Looking up the hill the illuminations of the Royal Artillery Mess, College Gardens, at once attracted attention. The design was a field gun with the letters "R. A." Viewed from the eastward the design was out of perspective, but viewed from the west it was perfect. Still higher, the face of the houses in Queen's Gardens were decorated with red lanterns, presenting a charming mass of lambent light which added materially to the general effect. Government House was decorated with strings of small coloured lamps festooned round the pillars of the verandahs and lanterns hung along the cornices; and the lanterns at Headquarters could be seen amongst the trees. The Central Police Station was treated with red lanterns, but from the harbour the light seemed dim in comparison with that at Queen's Gardens. The Civil Hospital was hung with lanterns along the verandas of the upper storey, and raised above the building was the red cross with an auxiliary design on either side, apparently intended for Chinese characters. On the opposite side of the harbour the Water Police Station at Tsing-tau-ten stood out prominently, the band being outlined with lanterns, with the word "Welcome" on one of the faces in lettered festoons. The road up to the station was also hung with lanterns.

Their Royal Highnesses went on board the steamer Hawke shortly before midnight, and will proceed to Canton at daylight this morning, returning to Hongkong early on Friday morning.
